South to the same points, for they are all adjusted with reference to each other.

"A change in the rates on coal and from from Pennsylvania and West Virginia to Northern and Western points would necessitate corresponding changes on coal and from from all points in the South to the same markets.

"A change in the rates on cotton yrom Memphis over the short haul across the country to the cotton mills of Georgia and the Carolinas would necessitate a corresponding change in the rates on cotton over the long haul from Memphis North and East, through Cincinnail, to the cotton mills of New England. Otherwise the roads that carry for the cotton mills of New England would lose their cotton business to the roads that carry to the cotton mills of the South, or lose it to the Mississippi River and the roads that compete with that highway to New Orleans and the other ports of the South.

Southern Roads.

"To touch the export rates over the lines from the Missouri and Mississippi valleys to New York and other North Atlantic ports is to touch the rates from the same points of origination over the lines to New Orleans and Galveston and other Southern ports, for they all have carefully adjusted relations to each other

"Hustrations and suggestions might be multiplied indefinitely, but enough has been said to show that it is idle to talk about the 'restricted' exercise of the power of rate-making, which it is proposed to confer on the commission. No such thing is possible.

THE ARMY BILL

Unsuccessful Effort to Recognize Heroism of San Francisco

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28.—
The details of the provisions of the army appropriation bill occupied the House of Representatives throughout the day, Several pages of the measure yet remain to be considered.

An incident of the day was an unsuccessful effort to recognize the heroism of two of San Francisco's firemen who lost their lives in the recent fire on the transport Meade. Mr. Kahn, of California presented an amendment to pay their widows $5,000 each, and many members approved, but a point of order was faful to the attempt, Mr. Hull retracted his former criticism of Minister Rockhill on the question of the return of the United States' share of the Boxer indemnity.
Consideration of the bill was suspended at 5 o'clock when the House passed at

IS NOT OPPOSING

Wise Claims to be Partisan of Son of Confederate Chieftain.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28.—
The assertion of Captain John S. Wise hat he is not opposing the confirmation of Captain J. F. S. to the collectorship of the port of New to the collectorship of the port of New-port News, caused comment in Wash-ington. The statement that he was do-ing so was made by Republicans here who wanted to see the nomination of Captain Stuart confirmed, and who re-gretted that so able an ally as Captain Wise could prove himself to be should be against them. His profession of Wise could prove himself to be should be against them. His profession of strong partisanship for Captain Stuart loses some of its force when viewed in connection with the fact that the friends of the latter, who have had their coats off in behalf of the son of the gallant Confederate chieftain for weeks and months, thought Captain Wise was fighting them. ing them
